

Saving your local beach birds

Help protect threatened Hooded Plovers!

Photo: Cassidy Mackenzie

Photo: Dan Lees

Photo: Glenn Ehmke

Do you like walking along the beach?

Ever wanted to get involved in protecting your local threatened species?

Come along to our Kilcunda workshop to learn about Hooded Plovers and what you can do to protect them!

Learn about their quirky behaviours, why it is so important for the local community to get involved in their protection and what you can do to help out. We will spend the morning indoors, have lunch and go for a beach walk, where we'll get to see the birds' behaviours. All are welcome!

Date: Tuesday 13th December Time: 10:00am – 12:30pm

We will drive to Kilcunda Trestle Bridge Beach after lunch for a beach walk

Location: Kilcunda Community Centre, 3513 Bass Hwy, Kilcunda

RSVP: 7th December to bnb.events@birdlife.org.au

Lunch provided. Please inform of any special dietary requirements at RSVP.

Please wear appropriate clothing for the weather.

This project is supported by the Glenelg Hopkins CMA and delivered by BirdLife Australia, through funding from the Australian Government's National Landcare Program