

Bass Coast Landcare Network Discussion Group Farm Walk- 'Commencing your on-farm regenerative agriculture journey'.

Are you interested in learning more about how other farmers are integrating regenerative agriculture into their farming operation? Are you at that stage where you are ready to take action but don't know where to start? Do you want to meet people who are experiencing the same challenges as you? Join us on this exciting farm walk to the Kernot property of Janette and Andrew Allen who are at the early stages of their regenerative agriculture journey. Also joining us is respected agronomist Chris Alenson who has provided management advice to Janette and Andrew and will talk about some of the fundamentals of regenerative agriculture. We look forward to seeing you on this exciting farm walk.
